Part III Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Check if Schedule O contains a response or note to any line in this Part III [X]

1 Briefly describe the organization's mission: GoodWeave works to end child labor in global supply chains, and promotes through thought leadership for the use of its methodologies as an effective and proven system in order to reach all 152 million child laborers around the world.

2 Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ? [] Yes [X] No If "Yes," describe these new services on Schedule O.

3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services? [] Yes [X] No If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O.

4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.

4a (Code:) (Expenses $ 687,943. including grants of $) (Revenue $) GoodWeave is disrupting the cycle of child labor, slavery, illiteracy, and poverty through the following interrelated strategies:

Harness Market Forces:

From the garment factories of Bangladesh to the cocoa fields of the Ivory Coast, there are 152 million child laborers today. That's one out of every 12 children in the world. The rug industry has one of the highest levels and harshest forms of child labor-an estimated 200,000 children are exploited to weave carpets destined for elite showrooms and some of the most recognized retailers in the West.

See Schedule O for Continuation

4b (Code:) (Expenses $ 1,474,224. including grants of $ 833,827.) (Revenue $ 762,777.) Develop Child-labor-free Supply Chains:

Inspection, Monitoring and Certification:

GoodWeave certification offers the best assurance that rugs and textiles are made without the use of child labor. GoodWeave's inspection system is the only one that reaches all levels of the supply chain in an informal manufacturing sector. In 2019, the work of GoodWeave's national inspection teams in South Asia reached almost 80,000 workers through monitoring visits to facilities, which also resulted in 2.6 million rugs certified as child-labor-free. This work directly led to the rescue of 1,440 children from exploitation - the majority of whom were victims of trafficking.

See Schedule O for Continuation

4c (Code:) (Expenses $ 865,543. including grants of $ 386,599.) (Revenue $) Provide Educational Opportunities to Children:

In 2019, GoodWeave provided direct access to education to 21,663 children. GoodWeave teams in India, Nepal and Afghanistan have continued to innovate program design, introducing education programs ranging from home-schooling for girls in Afghan weaving communities to operating daycare and early childhood education programs in Nepal to establishing entire "child-friendly" communities throughout North India's informal worker regions. While the implementation model, scope and scale from community to community varies, the strategy behind doing this remains the same. These programs either serve victims and/or address the root causes of child labor.

See Schedule O for Continuation

4d Other program services (Describe on Schedule O.) (Expenses $ 509,117. including grants of $ 50,000.) (Revenue $)

4e Total program service expenses 3,536,827.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a: Harness Market Forces:

GoodWeave employs a demand driven model. By establishing partnerships with brands and retailers, and increasing consumer preference for certified products, the organization is able to inspect more supply chains and protect more children. Efforts within the "Harness Market Power" category include building corporate partnerships and consumer awareness activities aimed at increasing market penetration in Europe and North America and adoption of child-labor-free products.

In 2019, GoodWeave continued to expand its Change the Pattern awareness campaign in partnership with its business, NGO and media partners. The campaign reached over 62 million people, through editorial outreach, public service advertising, social media, point-of-sale educational materials, special events, website marketing and other targeted outreach.

GoodWeave inspects the production supply chains of participating manufacturers and importers. To be certified and thus eligible to display the GoodWeave label, manufacturers sign a legally binding agreement to: (1) Produce products free from child labor and forced and bonded labor; (2) Register all production sites with GoodWeave and allow random, surprise inspections; and (3) Pay license fees that support child rescue, rehabilitation and education in India, Nepal and Afghanistan.

In 2019, Carpet Industry work resulted in 12 new import and retail companies joining around the world, bringing the total number licensed to 177 and resulting in 23% share of the total handmade rug market globally. For its new programs in apparel, fashion jewelry, and home textiles, GoodWeave added an additional 3 brand partners.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b: Develop Child-labor-free Supply Chains:

Every single child found is offered rehabilitation, counseling services, schooling, and other critical services. In addition - and this is the most powerful point of impact - approximately 50,000 children were prevented from ever being exploited because of the 14,377 regular, surprise visits made this year to workshops, factories, and private homes in artisan and producer villages.

In 2019 GoodWeave was one of only 23 full members of the ISEAL Alliance, the global association for sustainability standards. ISEAL membership requires GoodWeave to obtain third-party accreditation and evaluation of its certification system to ensure the organization is independent of external pressure, is transparent in its certification process, demonstrates proper quality control and confidentiality systems, and treats all producers equally.

Standard Setting:

GoodWeave's certification Standard addresses the contributing factors to child labor. In 2019 GoodWeave launched a newly strengthened International Generic Standard that applies across product categories from carpets to home textiles, apparel to fashion jewelry, as well as at various tiers of production from Tier One factories to home-based production. Under review were the three "certification principles" including no child labor, no forced or bonded labor, and conditions of work are documented and verifiable. The Standard also includes progress principles, including freedom of association and collective bargaining are recognized; no discrimination is practiced; working conditions are respected, including workplace safety and health, wages, working hours, and disciplinary practices; and negative environmental impacts of production are identified and minimized.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c: Provide Educational Opportunities to Children

GoodWeave removes children from slave-like conditions, reunites them with their families when possible, and offers them a home when not.

Rehabilitation can take years and includes psychological counseling in addition to health care and education. Rescued children are supported until grade 10 or age 18, whichever comes first. In 2019, 247 children were removed from exploitative labor across all program categories including carpets, apparel, fashion jewelry, tea, and bricks. These children were provided with educational support and rehabilitation.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4d: Promote Best Practice and Improve Conditions for all Workers:

Addressing child labor effectively requires more than simply prohibiting the practice as a matter of law, policy, or standard.

Beyond the programs GoodWeave implements directly, the organization also seeks to improve conditions for all workers, to build the capacity of other organizations and serve as a thought-leader and advocate to raise the bar for companies, governments and other supply chain actors, to tackle child labor and its root causes. In 2019 GoodWeave participated in numerous of high-level events and advocacy platforms to promote the importance of ending child labor and modern slavery through deep due diligence practices that include full supply chain mapping, application of strong human rights Standards, ensuring remedy to rights holders and addressing root causes. These included the Copenhagen Fashion Summit, the International Labor Organization Conference, the OECD Forum on Supply Chain Due Diligence and the German Government convened Textilbundis. In 2019 GoodWeave's Capacity Building Unit began the development of a series of training modules that will continue to support our work to partner with other supply chain actors to strengthen their capacity to stop child labor. In collaboration with Humanity United and Global Fairness Initiative we continued transferring our methodologies to the brick kilns sector in Nepal, where the rate of forced and child labor is staggering. Forty work sites participated in this Better Brick Nepal program, bringing 6,790 workers under protection with a special focus on helping to release these workers from debt bondage.

transactions (purchase of goods or services, loans, etc.) with Board members or their employers are permitted other than the normal transactions between a nonprofit and its Board members such as contributions and payment of program service revenue to the organization for participation in various programs.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15:

The compensation of the President is established by the Board of Directors, who are independent of the President. The compensation level for the President is established by the Board of Directors based on knowledge of current salary levels for executives of similar organizations, performance of the President, and budgetary constraints. As a result, the salary levels trend towards amounts lower than current market levels in the Washington, DC metropolitan area might indicate. Notification of any change in the President's salary is made to the organization's third party accountant by an officer of the Board of Directors.

Board officers are not compensated in their role as officers or Board members. In 2019, no employee met the definition of a key employee as provided in the instructions to the form 990.
